

Culture

Quantum is an environment where everyone has a voice and is inspired to contribute. Encouraging our partners and clients to be their authentic selves lets us all benefit from more thoughtful ideas, resulting in more innovation. As a business, and each of us individually, we are committed to making a difference in our local communities. We value:

Ingenuity

We evolve our skills and apply our technical expertise to solving investor challenges.

Enthusiasm

We believe in the power of positive thinking to encourage spur action, and that in this pursuit we are helping investors, team members, and partners build a better future.

Hard Work

We believe the only way to achieve great things is to work hard. Investing is not easy, there are no secrets or shortcuts, just well-intentioned labor, applied day in and day out.

Authenticity

We value transparency about ourselves, our preferences, our methods, our mistakes and the challenges we all face in our lives and in our roles at the company. Prioritizing our humanity also preserves our dignity and provides an environment focused on repeatable outcomes.

Efficiency

We offer our clients powerful ways to build portfolios, reduce inefficiencies, and capitalize on market opportunities.

Collaboration

We enjoy working together, in partnership with each other, investors and the industry. The nature of our business is forward-looking, requiring both a plan for tomorrow and a vision for the future. We innovate together in our search for new opportunities.

Accountability

Each of us are accountable to each other, our clients, our corporate partners, regulators and the investment industry to provide the most effective strategies, with the most transparency, at the lowest cost possible- and to continuously evolve.
